Country Members Charge This.

ASSESSMENT COM. MEETS

County Board Will Fight Apportionment of Taxes.

Country members of the assessment committee of the county board this morning charged that commissioners appointed by the circuit court to equalize taxes in the county did not make a thorough examination of conditions in the rural districts.

Supervisor Jones of the town of Burns said that the commissioners only spent from 9:30 in the morning until 4 in the afternoon in his town, and one hour of this time was deducted for dinner. So far as he knew the commissioners did not get out of their rig and make a personal examination of a single farm in the town. Most of the day was spent in driving, the size of the town requiring all of that time to travel over the principal roads.

Supervisor Keppel, chairman of the committee, told a similar story of the work of the commission in the northern part of the county.

Both supervisors marveled at the manner in which during these brief inspection tours the commissioners could determine why the assessed valuations should be increased in the various country districts.

"The city claims it is being treated unjustly in the tax apportionment and demands even a further reduction," said Supervisor Keppel. "Let the city prove its assertion, before I will give in. I want to be fair in this matter and believe that every man should pay his fair share of taxes, be he a resident of city or country. But I for one will have to be shown before submitting to any further concessions to the city. The deliberations of this committee can be completed in three days if we come to an agreement but there is no telling when we will get through if an agreement regarding the apportionment is not reached at the outset.

"How did the commissioners reach these values apportioned to the various towns, villages and cities?" asked Supervisor Kindley of the city.

"We don't know," replied Supervisors Jones and Keppel in concert.

"There is nothing on file indicating what discrimination was made by the commissioners between personal property and real estate," said Supervisor of Assessments Keizer. "The values were increased or decreased in the aggregate as printed in the report. We have no other records."

Desultory conversation of this sort marked the first session of the assessment committee this morning and indicated that an agreement regarding the equalization of taxes between the city and country districts will probably not be easily reached. The city has three members on the committee, Supervisors Kindley, Lehman, and Nelson, while the country is represented by two members, Supervisors Keppel and Jones. They are in session in a jury room on the second floor of the county building.

TRAIN FLIES AT LIGHTNING SPEED

Harriman Special Goes at Rate of Seventy Miles to the Hour.

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

OMAHA, Oct. 25.—The Harriman special passed Kearney, Neb., without stopping at 4:20 this morning, going through the city at a mile a minute. It made 96 miles from North Platte to Kearney in 98 minutes and from Grand Island to Columbus, 62 miles, in 61 minutes.

The pilot of the train was hardly able to keep ahead. The train passed Fremont at seventy miles an hour with no stop. The pilot was forced to side track on account of a hot box.

President Didn't Object.

OMAHA, Nebr., Oct. 25.—The Harriman special reached here at 9:25 this morning, having made the run from San Francisco in 39 hours and 54 minutes, sixteen hours ahead of the regular schedule.

Director Krenschmitt of the Union Pacific, says the talk of the president's protesting against the speed of the train is nonsense. He says the newspapers made a faster schedule than could be run.

RUSSIAN RIOTS ARE DANGEROUS

(Special Tribune Dispatch.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 25.—A train run into Moscow today accompanied by great danger. The engineer was threatened with death if he did not desert, but he stuck. The strikers attacked the troops guarding the train at several stations. Dispatches from various districts say the trouble is growing worse and the revolutionists are gathering.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 25.—The railway tieup prevented the British ambassador leaving today as he intended on a two months' leave for home. A train bearing five hundred sick and wounded soldiers from the war is stalled near the city. The sufferers cannot be taken into the hospitals.

A dispatch from Riga says anarchy exists there with frequent bloody affrays and many casualties. Three government shops were destroyed, the railway cashier was murdered and 25,000 roubles were stolen.

INSURANCE INQUI- SITION ADJOURNS TO NOV. 8.

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—McClintock was on the stand again this morning in the insurance investigation. His attention was called to a portion of the Frick report inveighing against the "deferred dividend" plan of insurance. McClintock took an hour to explain the system and in giving his opinion. He said people were confused by the word "surplus," which, the witness said was not something to play with, but was the reservation from the interest on "premiums."

The committee adjourned this afternoon until November 8th when James H. H. Hyde will be the first witness examined.

WEDDED AT CATHE- DRAL THIS MORN- ING.

A pretty and quiet wedding occurred this morning at St. Joseph's cathedral when Miss Barbara Girk and Mr. Joseph Stuve were united in marriage by the Rev. Father Slyter before a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

The wedding service occurred at 7 o'clock and the wedding party at once went to the home of the bride, 1607 Market street where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. Stuve, the groom, is connected with the J. J. Poehling company's store and is an able and rising young business man, while the bride has been employed at the La Crosse hospital since the opening of that institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuve left on the fast mail for St. Paul. Before returning they will visit points in Iowa and elsewhere, visiting relatives and friends.

The hack which conveyed the happy pair to the depot was handsomely decorated with a large heart, old shoes, flags and bushels of rice was thrown by well wishing friends at the church and depot.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Stuve will take up their residence at 712 North Ninth street where they will be at home to friends.

14 SALOONISTS PAID OFFICERS

Settled to Refilling Bottles Rather Than Stand Expense of Trial.

Fourteen La Crosse saloonkeepers were arrested by United States revenue officers and compelled to settle by the payment of large fines for diluting whiskey bottled in bond, during the week that the grand jury was in session.

Two of the fourteen, however, refused to settle upon the basis demanded by Uncle Sam's agents, and these were the two saloon men indicted by the grand jury at the time, an account of which was printed exclusively in the Tribune.

It is understood that the twelve proprietors who settled for their infraction of the government revenue law, paid sums varying from $50 to $100 and in consideration of this settlement their cases were nolleed by

LAWYER HAS TO PROSECUTE CLIENT

To be placed in the position of having to prosecute his own client is the unfortunate predicament which District Attorney Bosshard finds himself in as the result of the arrest of Albert Hanson, the man charged with wife abandonment, who was brought back from Montana by Sheriff Haugen.

Hanson brought a suit for divorce in circuit court and employed Mr. Bosshard as his attorney. The tables were turned when Mrs. Hanson ap-

THE FARMERS MUST PROVIDE REGULA- TION BOXES

The postoffice department is about to enforce a new order with reference to rural mail boxes. It has been decided to withdraw the rural service from patrons who do not provide regulation mail boxes.

It is announced by W. R. Spilman, general superintendent of rural delivery at Washington that no favoritism will be known in the enforcement of this order, but for the benefit of patrons with small purses ample time will be given to make the change. First the postmasters will be required to send to Washington the names and addresses of people on the routes running out of their offices who do not have the regulation boxes. To each of such patrons will be sent a circular letter from the department informing him that his service will be discontinued if within sixty days he has not provided a regulation box. No patron, Mr. Spilman states, need have no fear that his service will be cut off without this notice.

By a "regulation" box is meant anyone of the nearly 200 different kinds manufactured in widely different localities that have received the approval of the postoffice department. Some of the boxes are plain and simple and others are ornate, so that it will be possible to suit the taste of almost every patron. They vary in price from 50 cents to $5. The postoffice department will furnish a list of them to any persons who apply.

The government does not have the power to compel patrons to put up the regulation boxes, but it can take away the service from those who do not obey the order, and Superintendent Spilman says that this will be done in every instance. It is asserted by the department that the order is in the interest of facilitating the delivery of mail and safeguarding the service. Every box of approved design has a signal by which the carrier can tell without leaving his wagon whether or not the box contains any mail that is to be posted.

the government. The other two saloonkeepers were disposed to fight the cases against them and their indictment by the grand jury followed.

The saloonkeepers who were hauled up by the revenue officers were charged with refilling whiskey bottles sealed with the government stamp and bottled in bond. The original goods were sold and the bottles were allowed to remain on the back bars, being refilled with cheaper grades of whiskey. Samples of whiskey from these bonded bottles were taken from every saloon in the city and where the whiskey did not test up to the proofs demanded on the government stamp arrests followed. Settlements were made with the revenue officers in the Stoddard hotel.

peared in court and Judge Fruit ordered Hanson to pay her attorney's fees and fifteen dollars per month. This Hanson did not do, leaving the city almost immediately and locating in the west. Subsequently the criminal charge of abandoning his wife was brought against Hanson and his arrest followed. Now Mr. Bosshard as district attorney will have to appear against Hanson when his case is called in the county court Friday afternoon.

The government is trying to assure the same protection to mail gathered and delivered on routes that is given to any other mail matter. It is considered only fair that the patrons should put up boxes that will afford protection to the matter placed in them.

The order will require many changes in boxes, as it is estimated that in the country at large no more than half of the rural boxes in use are of approved designs.

RECORDS FAILED TO SHOW WEDDING

Or Divorce Claimed by Wo- man so Strange Case is Dismissed.

Investigation of Jackson county official records fails to reveal that Mrs. Mary Beutle was ever married to Edward Brownell or secured a divorce from him.

Mrs. Beutler, who had her husband, Joseph Beutler, arrested on the charge of abandonment of his wife and child, literally swore her case out of court on her own testimony, and the proceeding was dismissed this morning upon motion of her attorney. This was the result of an investigation of Jackson county court records following testimony given by the complaining witness at the preliminary hearing a week ago to the effect that she was married in 1895 to Ed. Brownell in Merrillan Junction and that she secured a divorce from him there two years later.

Her husband and court officials and attorneys were dumfounded by her testimony. The husband said she had never told him that she had been married before. The attorneys knew she could not have secured a divorce in Merrillan, as circuit court does not convene in the village, the county seat being ten miles away in Black River Falls. Witness said she had never appeared in court to get her divorce, both conditions which the lawyers knew were impossible if she secured a divorce.

The case was continued pending an investigation of Jackson county records, the result of which was made known today when it was reported that there was no record of Mrs. Beutler's wedding or divorce in Jackson county.

Mr. Beutler, who is a fireman in one of the local breweries, has consented to provide for their child, but Mrs. Beutler will have to support another child of which Edward Brownell is the father.

NO ASTOR-VANDER- BILT PURCHASE OF STOCK.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 25.—Colonel John Jacob Astor and Cornelius Vanderbilt are not to be mixed up in the International Power company's troubles. They deny the statement attributed to Joseph H. Hoadley, that they bought Judson's stock.

Mr. Lewis Cass Ledyard, their attorney, issued the following statement yesterday evening: "Yesterday's papers contained reports of testimony given in the suit relating to the International Power company's affairs now on trial in the New York supreme court, from which it appears that Joseph H. Hoadley testified that Judson had told him that he had sold about all the stock to John Jacob Astor and Cornelius Vanderbilt."

"Colonel Astor and Mr. Vanderbilt, who are clients of mine, are now in Illinois engaged in inspecting the lines of the Illinois Central railroad, of which they are directors. Upon seeing this statement these gentlemen at once telegraphed me asking that it be contradicted."

PISTOL BATTLE IN A SALOON.

LADYSMITH, Wis., Oct. 25.—Three men were seriously injured in an attempted holdup of a saloonkeeper named McLean. Five Austrians attempted to hold the men up when three Americans rushed to his assistance. In the shooting which followed, George Potter, an American, one Austrian, and McLean were wounded. None will die.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 25.—The president made his first public appearance in Arkansas clad mainly in a rain coat.

The whistles and shouts of the crowd assembled detective approached the president's He called for an explanation, donned a rain coat over his pajamas and stood in the drenching rain, the first encountered on this trip, and spoke.

Before reaching Fort Logan the president was photographed with members of the party.

Last night at Birmingham a local detective approached the presidents carriage. Loeb ordered him back. The detective indignantly replied:

"I'm a secret service man."

"I don't care," said Loeb, "don't get too close."

The man pressed forward and Loeb hit him on the jaw with his fist and sent him staggering back into the crowd.

The train reached Fort Roots at 9:15.

The president reached this city about noon. He was royally received and escorted to the city park where he made an address.

FATAL KNIFE DUEL OVER A GIRL

SUPERIOR, Wis., Oct. 25.—Yesterday John Johnson of the town of Maple was brought to Superior charged with killing Alex Mackolla. The row, which ended in a tragedy, resulted from a dispute over a partner at a dance, which was held in Maple Sunday night. Both men claimed that they had the promise of the prettiest girl in the hall and, instead of leaving the matter to her for amicable settlement, began to fight with knives. Johnson proved the better fighter, inflicting wounds on his opponent which caused Mackolla's death. The girl danced with Johnson after the fight.

NO FEES FOR THE JUDGES

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 25.—Attorney General Sturdevant has sent out to county judges of the state printed copies of an opinion rendered by him to the effect that such judges can not lawfully charge any fees for proceedings for the sale of real estate of minors, neither a county or estate being liable. The attorney general says the salaries provided by county boards cover the compensation of county judges for such services.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

TO MERCHANT ADVERTISERS.

It is of importance to every merchant in this city that he know as nearly as possible the relative circulations of the newspapers in which he advertises.

So far as the city is concerned, the most practical way of determining circulation is by a canvass of the entire city. This will eliminate the possibility of "padding."

We therefore make this offer to the La Crosse Retail Merchants' Association:

The Tribune will contribute to the Merchants' Association one-third (1-3) the expense of such a canvass, upon the following conditions:

A committee to have charge of the canvass shall be chosen at a regular meeting of the association, said committee to be elected, and not appointed by the chair.

The fact that said committee is to be elected shall be advertised in the daily papers at least one week prior to said meeting.

Said committee shall employ canvassers to make a systematic canvass of the city, and said canvassers shall report by blocks the exact number of subscribers each paper has in each and every block in the city.

Canvassers shall also make inquiry of subscribers as to whether they have ordered any papers coming to their homes, whether they read them, and expect to pay for them, and whether they have ordered any papers stopped that continue to come to their homes, and whether any such papers are "sample copies," or are delivered on approval.

Of course the Leader-Press and The Chronicle will agree to defray one-third each of this expense, so there should be no delay in causing the canvass to be made. Or perhaps they will decline, "for business reasons."

AS THE SOUTH SEES ROOSEVELT.

It is interesting to note with what feeling the southern people regard the invasion of the south by President Roosevelt. That he is being received with a not unfriendly seriousness in that realm of democracy must be the somewhat surprising deduction from the following comment of the Baltimore Sun:

"In his speech at Raleigh yesterday and at Atlanta today President Roosevelt definitely formulated the issue upon which he is appealing for Southern support. It is, in brief, that all corporations doing an inter-state business should be held accountable to the federal government, because their accountability should be co-extensive with their field of action. Railroad-rate regulation is a salient phase of this issue."

"There is historic appropriateness in invoking Southern support for the principle of federal regulation of commerce, for its effective establishment would be the triumph of a process of constitutional development which was due to Southern initiative. It is a commonplace of our history that the movement which culminated in the adoption of the constitution of the United States was initiated in conferences between Maryland and Virginia, as a result of which the convention of 1787 met at Annapolis to consider measures for the national regulation of commerce. This convention in issuing the call for the convention which framed the federal constitution did so upon the express ground that 'the power of regulating trade is of such comprehensive extent, and will enter so far into the general system of the federal government, that to give it efficacy may require a corresponding adjustment of other parts of the federal system.'"

"Thus it may be that the federal government was formed upon the principle of national regulation of commerce, which is yet to be effectively established. The authority of individual states is inadequate to deal with the problem, and owing to the combination of state incompetency and federal inaction it has come about that corporations wield more irresponsible power in the great American republic than in any other country in the world. A distinguished French publicist was able to say in a treatise on the subject that 'monopoly constituted in opposition to the will of cities and states is a purely American phenomenon; the administration of continental Europe offers no examples of it.'"

"The issue which President Roosevelt is presenting before the people of the South is, therefore, one which bears a vital relation to the character of our institutions, and if he succeeds in engaging their active interest one desirable result that will probably follow is that the discussion of the subject will be raised to its proper plane of constitutional jurisprudence."

It goes to show that Americans are hero worshippers to the exclusion of sectional partisanship. The president's trip can't change the vote of the south to any extent, but should he become again a successful candidate, it will be less displeasing to the southern element than it would have been had they never known the man through his tour of the sunny South.

Boat Rams Into Warehouse.

aboard the schooner. The Arenal was flying signals for a tug when nearing this port but there is no tug here at present, and the schooner swung into the harbor with nearly all sails spread.

Cowper wrote that "to follow foolish precedents, and to wink with both our eyes, is easier than to think!" but this is not true of modern business life, especially of advertising, in which even the best precedents are followed but a little while and then easily passed on the road; and in which to wink with either eye—at lethargy and inaction—is to invite wreck and disaster.

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 25.—The schooner Arenal of Manistee, bound from Chicago light, entered port late yesterday afternoon to seek shelter and, with fore and mizzen sails and jibs set, crashed into the warehouse and dock of the Barry Transportation company, causing a panic among clerks in the warehouse and sailors a-

JUST LIFE

Now a California man who attempted suicide has sued the man who sold him the gun because it failed to go off.

Friends who have heard from Hon. George W. Peck recently say his health is good and by close methods his wealth is rapidly increasing.

Rockefeller has a chance to rest for a time, while the insurance grafters are being attended to.

President Roosevelt shows remarkable wisdom in telling the negroes of the south to better their position by educating themselves. Whod ever have thought of it but Teddy.

Its balm to the struggling editor to know that such great men as McCurdy appreciate the power of the press, anyway.

LADY TEAZLE COMES NEXT MONTH.

The Messrs. Shubert's gorgeous musical version of Sheridan's "School for Scandal," "Lady Teazle," due here next month with the beautiful singer, Grace Van Studdiford, in the title role, is lauded by the New York and Boston press as "the cleanest, the smartest, the prettiest legitimate comic opera produced in this country since the days of Patience. Pinafore, etc."

GAS FROM PASTE.

When Used As Food Is Bound to Make Trouble.

The average cereal food as frequently prepared, forms a pasty, gas generating mass in the stomach, which gives the digestive apparatus considerable trouble and frequently puts it out of business. A young man writes from Trenton, N. J., to tell what it did for him:

"I lived in a boarding house for three years before I was married," he says, "and every blessed morning there was supplied me some sort of cereal breakfast food, which I ate simply because I had been trained to eat what was set before me—not because I particularly relished any of it. It used to lie heavy on my stomach and within an hour fill me full of gas, making me very uncomfortable. At last this sort of thing brought on a serious disturbance of my digestive apparatus, with loss of appetite, and in time I had to go under the doctor's care."

"He put me on a diet of milk and toast, which in a week or two lost me 13 pounds in weight. I had a package of Grape-Nuts food in my room, which I had bought as a matter of curiosity, but had never opened. When I finally tired of milk and toast I thought I would try the Grape-Nuts, without any expectation that I would like it, thinking that it was probably similar to all the rest of the prepared foods."

"I liked it with cream from the start, however, finding it entirely different from anything else that I had ever eaten, and indulged in it freely. In one week (I say it on my honor) I regained nine pounds in weight and the 'Grape-Nuts' gave me the power to digest other kinds of food. It put me on my feet in a few days and now is and always will be a regular food item in our house. My only trouble is to keep my wife from eating too much of it, she likes it so well." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

OLD TIMERS ON THE RIVER WHICH ARE DISAPPEARING

One by one the old boats are leaving the upper Mississippi, the old timbers which have outlived their usefulness going to the scrap pile and more modern boats, which have been in service but few years going to the lower river or its large tributaries.

This is especially true of the rafters, which are rendered practically useless on the upper Mississippi by the decline of the lumber industry. Scarcely a dozen of the rafting vessels remain above St. Louis at the present time, and the probability is that less than that number will be found on the upper river next year.

Rivermen predict that three or four years will see the end of the up river rafter.

The steamer Frontenac, the well known rafter owned by the Laird-Norton Lumber company of Winona, it is understood will not be in the rafting business after the close of the present season.

Within the next few days the Frontenac will go to Fountain City, after her last raft of logs and it is reported that a few days later she will be taken on the ways at Wabasha where she will be entirely overhauled and converted into a model and up-to-date pleasure craft.

The boat will be brought back to Winona early in the spring and will be used as a pleasure boat by her present owners in this city.

The Frontenac, it is said, was offered for sale some weeks ago and a sale for the boat was in sight when the owners of the boat concluded that they did not want to dispose of the craft and decided to have it built over for a pleasure boat.

The last well known rafting steamer to leave the upper river is the Chancy Lamb, the big rafter which was built for C. Lamb &amp; Sons, and which was engaged in the towing business for the Clinton lumber firm during its prosperous days, when the three Clinton mills were in full blast every summer.

The Chancy Lamb was sold recently to the Nashville Transportation company, to be used out of that city on the lower river. The Chancy Lamb was one of the largest and finest of the up river towing vessels. She has not been in use during the past year, however, since the last of the Lamb mills ceased to operate.

The Mission of the Children.

Only think, if there was never anything anywhere to be seen but grown-up men and women, how we would long for the sight of a little child! Every infant comes into the world like a delegated prophet, the harbinger and herald of good things, whose office is to turn the fathers' hearts to the children and to draw the disobedient to the wisdom of the just. A child softens and purifies the heart, warming it and melting it by its gentle presence; it enriches the soul by new feelings and awakens within it what is favorable to virtue; it is a beam of light, a fountain of love, a teacher whose lessons few can resist. Infants recall us from much that engenders and encourages selfishness, that freezes the affections, roughens the manners, indurates the heart. They brighten the home, deepen love, invigorate exertion, infuse courage and vivify and sustain the charities of life. It would be a terrible world, I do think, if it were not embellished by little children.—Thomas Binney.

A Full Stop.

A returned traveler who spent half of his holiday in a tour of Ireland brought back a sample of the happy-go-lucky wit of the Irish "jarvey" or driver. In a breakneck race down a hill he suddenly realized that the spirited little Irish mare was running away.

"Pull her up!" he shouted excitedly. "Hold tight, your honor," returned the Jarvey easily.

"Pull her up!" again commanded the traveler, making a grab for the reins. "For your life don't touch the reins," the Jarvey answered without tightening his grip. "Sure, they're as rotten as pears."

The traveler made ready to jump, but the Jarvey laid a soothing hand on his shoulder.

"Sit easy," he said reassuringly. "I'll turn her into the river at the bridge below here. Sure, that'll stop her."

"One must know one's own measure and keep it in view." Just to specify. YOU know how big your store is—you know its measure: Does anyone in the city think it a smaller store than it is? The chances are that if anyone does it is because you have been careless about keeping your store's measure "in view."

WHEAT

Since the publication of our last review, a number of important developments touching the wheat situation have come to light. American wheat is practically on a basis where exports may be made, but the shortage of cars to transport the grain to tidewater has proved a considerable obstacle to a free foreign movement. As a result, stocks have increased at several of the primary points, despite the normal foreign demand. In the Northwest, however, the intense activity of the mills has a tendency to hold down undue accumulations, and the shipments of flour are something tremendous. The speculative wheat market is strongly supported on each decline by the most powerful interests in the trade. This support is given openly, but without any blare of trumpets. As a direct consequence of the stiffness in our markets, the foreigner has been obliged to come to us, and not we to him, as has been the custom in years past. Alarmist rumors of locusts in the wheat fields of Argentina have been published and denied several times. It may be that the insect pests will shorten the yield of that important country, but it is too early to make a definite statement on that subject. Disregarding the locust stories, we advise purchasers of wheat on conditions which are more clearly legitimate.

WEALTHY PHILANTHROPIST STARTLES MINNEAPOLIS

City is Excited Over the Remarkable Cures of a Mysterious Man Whose Eccentricities are Startling.

Strange Stories are Told of a Quiet Stranger Who Distributes Great Quantities of Food and Clothing and Cures Disease Without Pay.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (Special.)

—Oct. 25.—The people of this city are greatly excited over a number of remarkable cures which have been effected by a wealthy philanthropist, who is known as the Great Cooper. His headquarters at Voegel's drug store is besieged with crowds of men and women eager to be cured of their ills.

Cooper is a quiet, gentlemanly person, with the appearance of a student rather than a business man. He is apparently about thirty-one or two years of age. He first came into public notice by his philanthropic work among the poor. The large fortune he possesses has made it possible for him to distribute many wagon loads of food and clothing among those in indigent circumstances since his arrival in Minneapolis.

The first that was known of Cooper's power over disease was when Mr. E. Pomerleau, living at No. 554 Eighth Ave. N., a trusted employee of the Commutator Co., of No. 121 First St. N., brought to Voegel's Drug Store the largest parasite or tape-worm ever seen in this city, which he claimed had been removed from his system by the philanthropist. The parasite measured 90 feet in length, and when exhibited to the astonished druggist was still alive and squirming in the glass dish which contained it.

Mr. Pomerleau was greatly excited and told the following remarkable story: I have been ill for a long time. Sometimes I had a voracious appetite, and then there would be days when I could eat scarcely anything, and the smell of food nauseated me. I felt tired all the time, and when coming down town to my work felt as though I hardly had the strength to get back home again, although I was a strong, robust man before I was taken ill. I was irritable and had become so nervous and crabbed that I could not be agreeable or pleasant to any one around me, and I felt so tired and worn out all the time that I could not perform my daily labor without the greatest effort. I was weak and emaciated and my skin was sallow. I became moody and depressed in spirits and was greatly worried about myself.

My employer, Mr. Ben Boneau, had seen Mr. Cooper in the East and said he had effected many marvelous cures there, and advised me to consult him. I followed his advice and have been taking Cooper's treatment less than one week. I owe hours ago this tape-worm passed from my system; now I know what has been troubling me all this time.

Some people would not tell about a matter of this kind, but I believe in giving credit wherever credit is due, and I want everyone to know what Cooper has done for me. I would do anything in my power for him, for I actually believe he has saved my life. A few days after this Mr. W. H. McClurg, living at No. 2601 Newton Ave. N., reported that Cooper had cured him of a severe case of rheumatism and stomach trouble. He said: I have had stomach trouble and rheumatism for a long time. I heard of a man who had been cured of rheumatism in one week by Cooper. I did not believe there was a medicine on earth that could cure me, but I decided to try him.

I have been under his treatment for less than two weeks and it has done for me just what it did for the other man. Every trace of rheumatism and stomach trouble has disappeared, not a sign of it remains, and I feel as well today as I ever did in my life. I seem to have been made over. I am gaining rapidly in flesh, my appetite is good and I can eat and digest any kind of food. Cooper is a remarkable man.

This was followed by the still more remarkable cure of Mrs. Catherine Mulvihill, a prominent lady living at No. 2101 Twenty-sixth Av. S. Mrs. Mulvihill has been sick for fifteen years with a complication of kidney disease, rheumatism and stomach trouble, with severe headaches. Physicians and various remedies had failed to benefit her and she had despaired of ever regaining her health. In one week after she began Cooper's treatment she was feeling as well as ever, every trace of her trouble had disappeared.

The report of these remarkable cures flew through the city like wildfire and Voegel's Drug Store, where Cooper is making his headquarters, is besieged by people suffering from all manner of ailments.

The physicians of the city are amazed at the work he is doing and have tried to shake the wonderful influence he has over the people; even going so far as to threaten prosecution, but as he does not accept any money for his services and does not give out any medicine himself, they have been powerless to interfere.

Cooper created considerable amusement at the expense of the doctors by asking them why they did not write their prescriptions in English, so their patients would know what they were taking.

Since the interest has become so widespread that Cooper cannot meet the people personally, he is receiving an enormous mail and keeps a large force of stenographers employed in answering it. In the meantime stories of marvelous cures continue to pour in.

Mr. Lawrence Tuscany, a prominent citizen living at No. 1112 Aldrich Ave. North, was confined to his bed with rheumatism, stomach trouble and kidney disease; he was a very sick man and had tried doctor after doctor and spent hundreds of dollars without relief. He had given up all hope of being cured when he heard of Cooper and wrote him a description of his case. The philanthropist told him what remedies to use, and in three days Mr. Tuscany was out of bed and walking around. In a week he was apparently as well as ever.

In telling of his remarkable cure, Mr. Tuscany walked quickly up and down the room and kicked with his rheumatic limb in every direction, saying: "I guess that's pretty good for a man who was confined to his bed one week ago. I can use my limbs as well as I ever could in my life. Every trace of my rheumatism has disappeared and my stomach and kidneys are in perfect condition. I don't believe there is another medicine on earth like the one Mr. Cooper told me to use, and if I could not get more of the remedy, I would buy fifty dollars' worth right now. It is the greatest medicine I ever heard of."

The philanthropist claims to have received the formulas of the medicines he is using from an aged priest in a sleepy Spanish town in old Mexico. The Mexicans believed that holy water or some supernatural element entered into their composition.

Cooper receives an enormous daily mail. Letters are coming from every part of the state, asking for his advice.

The philanthropist reads every letter carefully and replies to each one advising the remedy which is applicable to each individual case.

While his remarkable cures are the chief topic of conversation, many stories are heard on the streets and in business places of his goodness to the poor. His gifts of food, money and clothing have relieved a great amount of distress and have greatly endeared him to the people.

He is beginning to show the great strain he has been under the past few weeks, and it is understood that he will remain here only one more week.

J. H. Weils of Portage visited friends in the city yesterday.

WOULD-BE SUICIDE SUES WHEN GUN WOULDN'T KILL

SAN BERNADINO, Cal., Oct. 25.—Because a revolver which he bought missed fire when he tried to blow his brains out, Paul Schlardum, of Colton, has brought suit against the man who sold him the weapon and hopes to recover the purchase price.

Schlardum climbed Smiley Heights and twice attempted to kill himself. When the weapon failed to discharge, Schlardum in disgust went to a lawyer and filed suit against the dealer. Schlardum came here recently from the East. He is sixty years old. Schlardum says he will prosecute the suit to the limit, and will postpone further attempts at suicide until the case is tried.

Superior Mills Enjoined.

SUPERIOR, Wis., Oct. 25.—The flour mills of Superior were enjoined yesterday by order of court commissioner from grinding wheat or shipping flour made from wheat inspected by Wisconsin inspectors upon which the inspection fees were not paid. Late last night Judge Vinje rendered a decision setting aside the injunction preventing the railroads from moving cars, upon the railroads paying $500 in court. The Wisconsin grain commission has promptly tied up the cars caught in the yards with new injunctions.

OLD TIME STARS TO PLAY THE 'VARSITY

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 25.—An all-star aggregation of Wisconsin alumni will line up against the varsity next Saturday according to the announcement of Graduate Manager Downer. He has been in communication with stars of the championship team of 1901 and has been assured that most of them will be here for the game. The bunch include Emil Skow, center, Holstein Arnie Lerum, and perhaps Schreiber for guard, Curtis and Haullerson for tackles and Abbott and Juneau for ends. Fogg will play quarterback and Larson will play one half back position. Driver is here and will be seen in action, making Eddie Cochems the most prominent of the missing men. In addition to these there will be Bill Hazzard, Grogg, Holt, King and others, while Andy O'Dea, who has quite a reputation as a kicker, may get into the game. Roy Chamberlain is also expected here for the game.

The hard work for the Minnesota game a week from next Saturday has not yet commenced with the varsity. The men were taken to Camp Randall tonight after working on the lower campus for a time, but there they were given no scrimmage work, but instead a stiff signal practice, missing men. Findlay is the only one that sustained any injury Saturday, however, Gelbach having been out last night. The lineup for signal practice was Remp, center, Deering and Donovan, guards, Bertke and Johnson, tackles, Brindley and Bush, ends, Melzner, quarter back, Vanderboom and Clark halves and Roseth, fullback.

ROSE MUST FACE SLANDER CHARGE

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 25.—By a decision of the state supreme court yesterday Mayor Rose of Milwaukee must face the charges of libel brought against him by the Gross Coal company of Milwaukee. The Gross company sues for damages of $50,000.

The demurrer of the mayor to the complaint was overruled, the supreme court thereby sustaining the decision of the lower court. The opinion written by Justice Winslow, says:

"There can be no doubt that the published letter which forms the basis of the second cause of action was libelous per se under circumstances set forth in the complaint. It charged in substance that at a time when there was a coal famine and people were suffering for fuel, the plaintiff not only charged extortionate prices for his coal but actually refused to sell it at these prices to people suffering from sickness. Such a charge is libelous."

THIEF DENOUNCES MAN WHO BE- TRAYED HIM

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 25.—Edward George Cunliffe, the express robber, in a long interview denies that he took the odd one thousand dollars, with the theft of which he is charged, in addition to the one hundred thousand dollar package, and says that his object in going to Bridgeport, Conn., was to obtain employment on one of the oyster boats of the Bridgeport fleet, a plan that was frustrated by the fact that the boats were not working on account of labor troubles.

He indignantly denies that he furnished a Bridgeport woman money to rent a flat, saying he spent his time in roaming about and listening to comments on the robbery instead of roystering around the "Tenderloin" district.

Cunliffe denounces James Missett, of Bridgeport, who informed the Pinkertons of his whereabouts, as a "sneak," and said he had made preparations to leave immediately after meeting Missett, but was detained by an attack of cramps.

ANOTHER INDIAN FOUND MURDERED

MARINETTE, Wis., Oct. 25.—Frank Salter, ferryman between Nahma and the resort in the bay, has been arrested charged with drowning an Indian, it being alleged that a handkerchief was tied over the man's mouth and he was thrown into the bay. The Indian is said to have rowed to the resort in a skiff and become stupid. The ferryman agreed to take him ashore, but returned alone five minutes later. He first stated he had taken the Indian across, but later is said to have declared: "I drowned him." This was not believed. Next day he told the same story and officers dragged for the body, finding it with the face tightly bound. The resort was raided today.

A Cliff Climber Tumbles to Death

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 25.—John Tracy, who with two other young men tried to scale East Rock, a cliff 400 feet high, lost his hold when within about one hundred feet up and tumbled backward. His skull was broken and he will probably die. His companions, M. J. Quinn and Thomas McKeun, descended safely and summoned an ambulance, which took Tracy to Grace Hospital. Tracy is twenty-two years and is a cataloguer in the public library.

Several persons have been killed in trying to climb East Rock.

CANDY BOY A HORSE THIEF

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Harry Niemeyer, who introduced himself in Dutchess county as the son of a wealthy business man of Flatbush, L. I., has just written a letter from Chicago confessing that he is a horse thief.

Three months ago Niemeyer applied to G. V. Fowler, a farmer, of Hibernia, for work. He said that he was in ill health and wanted to work in the open air. He gave the best of satisfaction and got the confidence of his employer, but on September 27 he left with a horse and wagon.

Niemeyer declared in his letter he had sold the property to R. Lasher, at Valatie. Mr. Fowler went to Valatie with one of the sheriff's officers and found his horse and wagon.

closed a deal whereby the Johnson-Wentworth company of Cloquet, Minn., purchased a tract of timber land in St. Louis county, Minn., which contains 25,000,000 feet of pine, one of the largest tracts in the north west. It consists of 21,000 acres, and the timber will give the firm a ten years' cut. The Weyerhaeuser syndicate owns 300,000,000 feet of pine located in an adjacent tract, just purchased. The Johnson-Wentworth company now operates a railroad which runs within thirty miles of the Goodyear timber and will extend it at once. The tract is 100 miles from the company's mills, but the logs will be sent in by rail. The deal represents a cash outlay of $1,000,000.

FIGHT EIGHT TRAMPS ON SWAYING ROOF OF A BOX CAR

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 25.—E. L. Simmers, a special policeman of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, had a thrilling fight with eight tramps on top of a freight train running thirty miles an hour yesterday afternoon. He boarded the train at Sundbury and in going over it discovered the eight tramps on the roof of a box car. All were intoxicated and had defied the brakeman. A robbery had been reported up the road and Simmers, thinking the men might have been implicated, ordered them to turn out their pockets.

Two submitted to be searched, but the third, the leader, tried to throw Simmers off the car. Simmers knocked him senseless, threatened to shoot the first man who laid hands on him, drove them back at the point of his revolver until he had found a safe place on the swaying car, and, keeping them covered with the pistol, held them off until Snydertown was reached, where some of them were captured and others escaped.
